AMA Announces ISDT Team Roster

By using the Two-Day Reliability Series as a guide, the AMA Selection Committee has announced the 37-man field of U.S. riders slated to compete in the International Six-Days Trial (ISDT), hosted this year by Sweden. The riders here have been selected on the basis of Two-Day scores, past ISDT experience and the combined "opinion" of the Selection Committee.

The U.S. team is broken into group structures for the ISDT, so that each rider is competing on both an individual and team basis. The team accumulating the least amount of marks is declared winner of the week-long, 250-plus-mile-a-day event.

The International Trophy Team is the most prestigious, basically because each competing country puts what they feel is their best six riders on the Trophy Team. This year's team consists of KTM-mounted:
 Gary Younkins Jack Penton
 Jeff Hill Kevin Lavoie
 Ted Leimbach Frank Gallo

The International Silver Vase is a four-rider effort competing for the antique vase award that dates back to the period of King George II. The U.S. Vase Team consists of Husqvarna-mounted:

Dick Burleson Greg Davis
 Larry Roeseler Bob Popiel

Then there are the Manufacturer and Club teams; groups of three riders competing on both a team and individual status. Trophy and Vase team members can also appear on Club and Manufacturer teams. Club teams are sponsored by AMA-sanctioned motorcycle clubs, while the Manufacturers put together rider teams, all on the same brand, but of at least two different displacement sizes. Those teams are as follows:

Cooley/Baldwin Swoop Japan Endurance Race

Riding a Yoshimura prepared Suzuki GS1000, the American team of Wes Cooley and Mike Baldwin won a prestigious international 8-hour endurance race on the Suzuka circuit in Japan. The price was 1 million yen ($50,000) and the competition included three factory prepared CBX six cylinder Hondas, two of which broke and one of which Reg Pridmore crashed, breaking his shoulder and arm. A factory Yamaha also fell victim to the flying Americans.

Watch this space.

They wouldn't understand a road like this. Or what it means to you.

They think it's perfectly alright to watch it from behind a windshield! (You think that's like watching it on TV.)

So they'll never know what a stand of pine trees smell like. (It's like nothing they ever found in a spray can.)

Or the way the temperature drops a few degrees and hits your face with that little slap of coolness when you ride into a stretch of forest.

And they'll never know how to tell there's a creek nearby before they see it.

But you do. And that's all that matters.

We do, too. That's why, of all the businesses in the world, our business is making tires for motorcycles. Carlisle tires. We make them good and strong, for the way you ride. So you can ride with your head in the clouds. And our feet on the ground.

Carlisle's Coming!
